NEW YORK APOR 16.—The tone of today's deathings, while duil and depressed gave no very active indications of apprehension. It was rather a waiting market, as for some time post. The transactions outside of operations by professionals, were insignificant. Senting by traders found few seekers, and prices consequently yledded very readily. On the other hand, when the professionals turned buyers they found few stocks offering and prices, consequently, easily recovered.

Some light recoveries in the second hour was due to covering by the shorts, but they were not well held and the list showed net declines in nearly oil cases, for the most part.

The total sales of stocks today were 13,500 shares.

rocaedings of the County Court. For ing Paper to Be Established. Other Matters.

Vesterday afternoon a "crap" game, which was being conducted in a field back of the old school house on Court street, resulted in a "crap," in which Andrew Lee shot James Brown, a young colored man seventeen or eighteen years of age, in the cheek with a revolver. Both of the participants in the affair are colored.

'A number of people were attracted to the spot by the anosting, and it was not long before Constable Thomas Kennedy (colored), who was summoned to the scene by a little boy, made his appearance. Lee was at once placed under arrest and tuken to the county fall, where he was locked up. It is very likely that a strict watch will be kept over him while the new fall is being built.

The bullet had not been removed at a face hour last night. No serious results are anticipated, but at the same time it is likely that the young man will be confined to his bed for some clane.

For some unaccountable reason the affair did not become generally known until a late hour last night. Those who witnessed the shooting were not over-anxious to be summoned as witnesses, and few others knew of the affray. A large number of witnesses' names have, however, been secured and they will testify when the case comes up for trial.

TUG AND BARGE SAIL.

The tag Underwriter and the barge Lone Star, having on board a quantity of wreckage from the Malie, which arrived here hast Sunday direct from Havana harbor, cleared yesterdily at the custom house and salled in the afternoon for New York on orders.

As partly related in yesterday's paper, there is an interesting story in connection with the detention of the Underwriter and Lone Star for twenty-from hours.

As stated in this column, Dr. W. J. Petus, the national quarantine officer at the Capes, came here yesterday and objected to Collector of Customs Elliott against the granting of clearance papers to Captain Wiley, charging that the master of the ture violated the quarantine laws by passing by Old Point without submitting to the usual formality. In other words, Dr. Petus claimed that Captain Wiley Ignored him by coming to Newport News, and he stated his determination to report the case to the department, holding the ship in the meantime, with a view to having a fine of $5,000 imposed.

or to having a time of sa,000 imposd.
Dr. A. C. Jones, the state quarantine officer at this port, who has had thirteen years' experience in the service, part of which time was spent under the government, claimed that Dr. Pettus had no right to hold the ships, as they had gone into quarantine here and had complied with the law in every respect. Captain Wiley came in flying d'yenow flag, showing his intention of going into quarantine. The reason he did not stop at Old Point is ment, but Dr. Pettus would not take it up, simply maintaining his authority to act.

Collector Elliott telegraphed to Washington in the afternoon and later in the evening received the following reply, which is in the nature of a victory for Dr. Jones and settles a question that had long been disputed and may come up in the future:
"Collector Customs, Newport News:
"Tug Underwriter and barge Lone Star, with Maine wreckage from Cula, may be entered on certificate of State Quarantine Officer.
"This is in accordance with recommendation of Marine Hospital service," "Assistant Secretary."
It is not believed that this decision was given because the Underwriter and Lone Star are yet in the service of the government. It is possible that the same privilege would be given any other ship under similar circumstances. Newport News is the coaling point and It is wholly unnecessary and unjust to hold a vessed at Old Point in quarantine and then make her coal here afterwards, when much time can be saved by coming here directly and fulfilling the obligations of the law. by coming here directly and fulfilling the obligations of the law.

In view of the fact that Newport News in common with Norfolk, Balti-more and Richmond, is making a stub-

News in common with Norfolk, Baltimore and Richmond, is making a stubborn fight against the pet scheme of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, which is the revision of the Load Line Rule to work against the first named port, the following special from New York will be of interest:

"Charles P. Summer, chalrman of the joint conference of New York, Philadelpain and Boston commercial bodies, has sent a letter to the board of trade, London, which embodies the salient points of the joint conference's contention with the respect to the winter North Atlantic load line rule of the board of trade, which, it is contended, as now operated, affects adversely the winter trade of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and other ports north of Baltimore.

The rule overts a higher for load one winter trade of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and other ports north of Baltimore.

The rule exacts a higher free board during the winter months on vessels sailing from ports north of Lattimore.

As vessels sailing from ports south of Baltimore are favored in their cargo carrying capacity by this rule, yet take the same course to ports of the continent or of the United Kingdom, the Northern shippers maintain this is an unjust discrimination, and a conference participated in by representatives of the chambers of commerce of Boston and New York and the produce exchange, maritime association of the port of New York and bear produce exchange in the consideration, with the result that the London body is now asked to rectify the discrimination.
